COMMUNICATE

We specialize in providing impactful communication strategy services to space companies. Our expertise in crafting captivating stories is the driving force behind inspiring your audiences and fueling the success of space businesses.

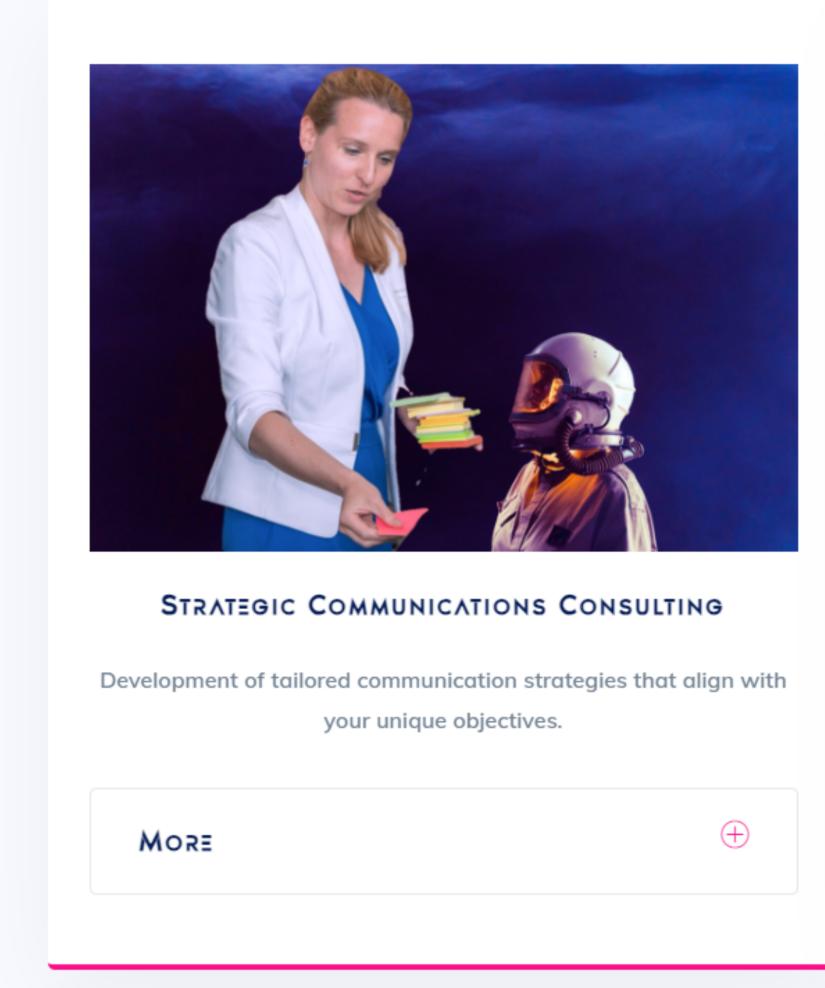

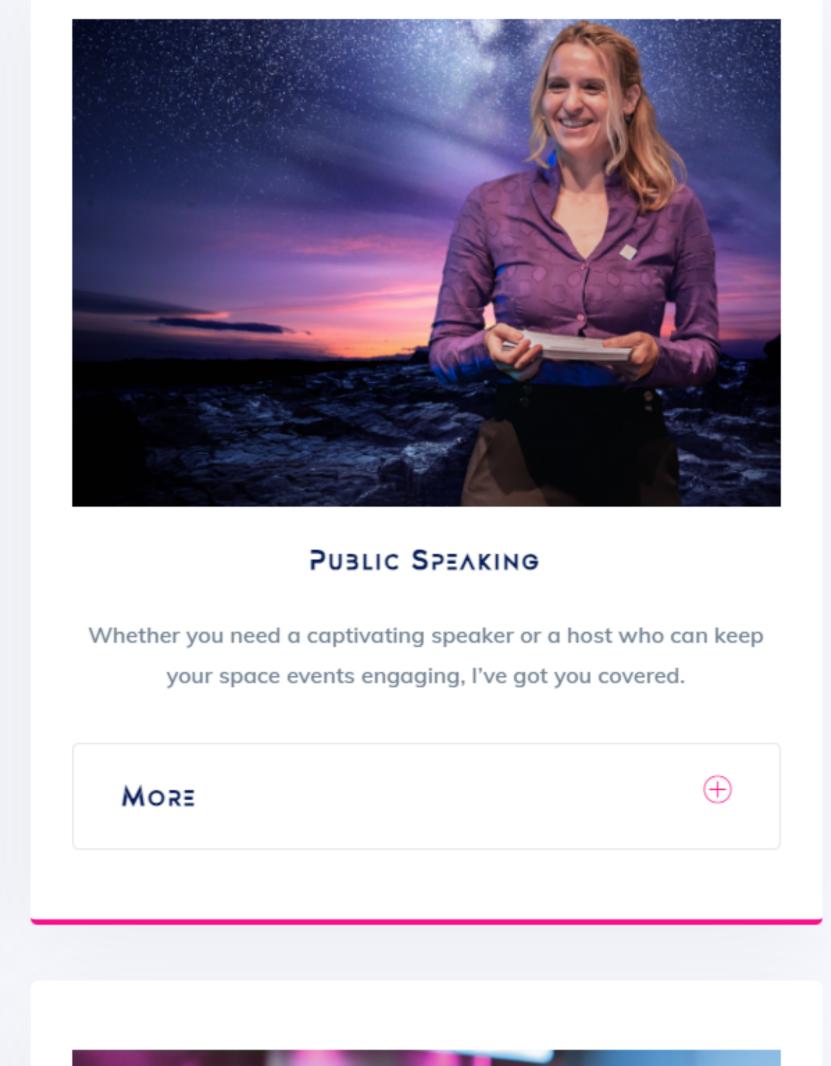

Λ 30UT Crunch & Huntening is a boutique communications consultancy for space organisations of all sizes. It was founded by Alexandra Sokolowski, an experienced Senior Marketing & Communications professional in the space industry, with over a decade experience in the space and ground segment. During her career at various space companies, she has gathered skills in Branding, Internal & External Communication, Media relations, Sales, Business Development, and Event Orchestration. She got the idea to found her own company while co-organising the groundbreaking first-ever Space for Island Nations Conference.
